Clint Ramsey

Clint Ramsey, from Collinsville, Oklahoma, is the Exhibitor of the Day. This is Clint's sixth year showing at Color Breed Congress and he says his favorite class to show in would be, "anything ranch," but if he had to pick, it would be Ranch Reining. Today, Clint is exhibiting his 3-year-old stud, Rich, more formally named, The Midnight Special. When asked about Rich's favorite treat, Clint laughed and said, "I think his favorite treat is me leaving him alone." Clint is at Color Breed Congress with his wife Kimberly and young son Carson. You can find Clint, Rich, and other members of Clint Ramsey Performance Horses anywhere ranch classes are held. He explained showing and training horses is his favorite hobby, and it's even more special to participate with the presence of his family and show team.

Congratulations Clint!
